

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN
GURU NANAK DEV UNIVERSITY, AMRITSAR
AND
SARDAR JASWANT SINGH RAI MEMORIAL TRUST, JALANDHAR

The Guru Nanak Dev University (hereinafter called the "University") and S. Jaswant Singh Rai Memorial Public Charitable Trust, Jalandhar (hereinafter called the "Trust") undertake to enter into Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to institute S. Bishan Singh Samundri Memorial Lectureship Award in Agricultural and Allied Sciences.

The Trust, established by Prof. Karamjit Singh Rai, founder Head of the Department of Biology of Guru Nanak Dev University, and retired Professor Emeritus University of Notre Dame, U.S.A. has instituted an endowed, annual, Lectureship Award in the memory of the S. Bishan Singh Samundri, the Founder Vice-Chancellor of the University. The objective of the Lectureship Award is to posthumously honour and pay homage to the revered educationist, and an exceptionally astute administrator, who not only established the early contours and the road-map of the development of the University, but was also a visionary for the advancement of agriculture and rural social structures in Punjab. His lifelong commitment to promote higher education and agriculture, and to enhance the quality of rural life in Punjab is legendary.

The Memorial Lectureship Award will bring truly distinguished scholars of national and international reputation in agricultural research with particular attention to the emergence of correlated social problems in Punjab, such as overuse of fertilizers and pesticides, depleting water table, and other environment related issues to the University for a period of 1-2 days each year, to deliver an invited Public Lecture, and to interact with the faculty and students. Such a synergistic interaction would help to sensitize the University community for a multi-faceted approach to problem solving related to agricultural sustainability and societal welfare.

The terms and conditions of the Memorial Lectureship Award shall be as follows:
